NFED Conferences

The advent of globalization has necessitated the advancements in science & technology towards its utility through effective management practices and righteous approaches. This in turn, forcefully triggered the new vistas in the research to address the emerging trends in all the industry and service sectors with time. Also, facilitates to overcome obsolescence with frequent entrepreneurial innovations in terms of ergonomic aspects for societal wellness. The contribution of researches in the past has witnessed only interim growth and development. The reason could be lack of integration of researches across various disciplines and its integrity towards achieving the holistic wellbeing of society. The reality of conducting any research is to impart wisdom and it is basically interwoven with multifaceted applications for achieving socio-economic development of communities. This compels the knowledge sharing through congregation of research across inter-disciplines and multi-disciplines for upbringing the overall socio-economic development. Keeping these aforementioned aspects NFED intends to conduct conferences, which can radically drive on the paradigms of contemporary researches in sciences (basic sciences, medical sciences, paramedical sciences, social sciences, etc.), engineering, technology, management and arts (including humanities).
